PROFILE

Alison Lynne Thompson is always learning. After working in education she decided to take her fascination with tech to the next level and enrolled in a bootcamp program. While this program gave her a great jumping off point, her own desire to grow drove her to dig in deeper. As a result she expanded beyond the Ruby on Rails based program and created her own program, learning HTML/CSS (with a focus on accessibility) and Sass, Express, Mongo and React. In addition she expanded her knowledge of the tools around development, becoming proficient with git and hosting platforms like Heroku and Firebase.
